

Americans in Berlin Back Down E. Reds

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP) — East Berlin border guards backed down Monday night when three Americans defied a new Communist restriction on travel through the Berlin wall.

After a dispute Sunday between the border guards and the deputy chief of the U.S. occupation mission in Berlin, East Germany's Red regime announced all Allied personnel in civilian clothes would have to show identification papers to East German police when passing between the Soviet and Allied sectors of Berlin.

Monday night three Americans in civilian dress, identified only as members of the U.S. occupation mission, drove up to the only crossing point still open to Allied personnel.

The driver of the car said that when an East German policeman stopped him, "I told him I was not going to show him my papers. There was a brief argument and then I was allowed to pass."

The trio returned three hours later and again refused to show their papers. After another argument, they were allowed to pass into West Berlin.

The Western Allies, contending that all of Berlin is still technically under Western-Soviet occupation, have refused to accept East German controls. Western military personnel are ordered not to show identification papers to the East German police.

There was no immediate official U.S. comment on the new East German restriction.

The East Germans stopped a car carrying E. Allan Lightner Jr., deputy chief of the U.S. mission, when Lightner refused to show his papers Sunday night. He and his wife were allowed to pass only after an armed escort of eight American soldiers surrounded his car and escorted him past the border guards.

Beta Club Is Organized at Blevins

A local chapter of the National Beta Club, a leadership service organization for high school students of America has been established at Blevins High School, according to Wallace Necece, superintendent.

The National Beta Club, with over 2000 local chapters and approximately 45,000 members in high schools of 22 states is now in its 27th year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Daniel were appointed as faculty sponsors for the local chapter.

Permanent officers for this year are: Terrence Phillips, president; Mary Nell Barham, vice president; Ann Rogers, secretary; Carolyn Willis, treasurer; Lucelia Bolt, parliamentarian and Elaine Jester, historian.

Local Group Back From Circuit Meet

Delegates returned to Hope from the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Ft. Smith, Oct. 20-22, according to Eugene Shuster, local presiding minister.

Some 24 members from this area were part of the audience of 604 who heard the widely advertised public lecture, which was the climax of the assembly, entitled "Uniting Men in a Split-Up World." Harry C. Good, district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, gave this talk at the UCT Club in Fort Smith, where the three-day assembly was held.

Warns Brown Spider Bite Dangerous

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If you see a small brown spider with a dark brown V on its back — run.

That's the word from the State Health Department, which issued Monday a warning against brown recluse spiders.

Grover Dowell, entomologist for the state Agricultural Extension Service, said the little brown spiders are more numerous in Arkansas this year than ever before.

He said they have a vicious bite as dangerous as that of a black widow spider and often more dangerous.

The University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock said Monday that a 7-year-old Searcy boy almost died from the bite of one of the spiders.

He has recovered but is still hospitalized and will have to undergo a skin graft. Skin in the area of the bite decays, then drops off. The boy's name was not disclosed.

Dowell said there have been reports of deaths from the bites elsewhere in the U.S. Treatment of such a bite is a long process.

The infected area often swells to "half the size of a grapefruit," he said, and pus forms inside.

The spider is not usually aggressive toward humans, Dowell said, but will bite if aroused.

The Health Department recommends that both rural and urban homeowners check closets and other home storage areas for the spiders.

Dowell recommended that stone walls, walks and carports be sprayed with a mixture of two per cent chlordane, which is lethal to the insects.

Charges North Viet Nam Sent Troops South

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam formally charged Communist North Viet Nam today with sending regular troops into this country to carry out a campaign of subversion against the pro-Western government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Diem's government made its charge in a 16 page letter to the international commission and asked for an investigation.

The letter included documents purporting to be diaries picked up in clashes with Communist Viet Cong rebels, transcripts of prisoner interrogation, and records of Red agents who supplied North Vietnamese with food, guns and ammunition.

Members of the U.S. fact-finding mission led by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor were known to feel the documents present a significant and generally accurate report.

The South Vietnamese action could be a move to lay a legal basis for "any U.S." intervention that might be decided on by Washington and Saigon to counter spreading Communist rebel activity.

Signal Lights Removed by Hi-way Dept.

The city is completing the removal and rearranging of traffic signals on Third Street, in accordance with changes requested by the State Highway Department.

The Highway Department has requested that the traffic signals at Hazel and Elm be removed.

The Traffic Safety Director of the State Highway Department insists that traffic signals at these two locations unnecessarily impede the flow of traffic on Third Street and do not benefit the cross street traffic. Discussion of this question has been going on between the City Board of Directors and the State Highway Department for the past year and a half.

While the City Directors were not in full agreement with the idea, the Highway Department insisted that they have authority to control this and that the plan they suggested should be used.

The two remaining signals are being equipped with standard controls which will permit giving more time to the 3rd St. traffic during most of the day and providing additional time for the cross street traffic during the rush hours. The controls will switch the signals to a flashing operation during the late night hours when there is very little traffic.

The Highway Department has erected stop signs and painted broad white lanes to indicate the "stop" position and the City St. Dept. has stenciled stop signs on the pavement at each of the intersections. The Highway Dept. would approve flashing lights of the type now used at the corner of West 3rd and Hervey, but they believe that the stop warning is well enough identified without the flashing stop light.

The recent change at West 3rd and Hervey, removing the time signal and installing a flashing stop sign, was made when a large truck wrecked the signal at that location. When it was broken, the Highway Dept. ordered the signal removed. There have been numerous complaints from citizens who claim they have been inconvenienced by the removal of the sign, but the Traffic Safety Division of the Highway Dept. insists that the present arrangement is offering less over-all interference with traffic and is less hazardous than the fixed time signal.

Nuclear Blast Called Senseless; Fallout Is Backfiring on Reds

In Long Run U. S. Will Get Most Fallout

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union is getting a backfire of radioactive fallout today from its mammoth nuclear explosion, U.S. Weather Bureau scientists reported.

They said the fallout was carried on winds blowing south to southeast over the U.S.S.R.

The massive blast, triggered Monday in the atmosphere over the Novaya Zemlya region in the arctic, may have been the 50-megaton explosion that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had announced. But the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said it doubts the detonation was that big.

The AEC said the blast's yield "was very high, possibly as high as 50 megatons." But it added that a preliminary analysis "indicates it was more probably on the order of 30 megatons."

There has been no word from the Soviet Union on the explosion.

But either size, it was biggest man-made explosion in history. A 30-megaton bomb releases energy equivalent to 30 million tons of TNT. It would carry more punch than all the previously announced 21 tests in the current Soviet series. The largest previous Soviet test was estimated at about 10 megatons. The biggest U.S. nuclear test has been reported at 15 to 20 megatons.

Robert List, chief of the Weather Bureau's atmospheric radioactivity project, said the Soviet Union "would get more of the immediate fallout" from the explosion than other areas.

Since it was likely the bomb was fired high in the atmosphere, List said only a small fraction of the fallout would sift down immediately, that the greater portion of it would be sucked into the stratosphere and would come down perhaps next spring.

But considering the size of the blast, said List, the amount of radioactive debris blowing over Soviet farms, villages and towns would be appreciable.

Two U.S. scientists said, however, that in the long run the United States will get most of the fallout.

In Rochester, N.Y., physicist Ralph Lapp said "because of the latitude at which they test, we get most of the fallout from the Russian bombs."

Lapp, who worked on the project that produced the first atomic bomb, was asked if fallout increased directly with the size of the bomb. He replied: "I can only answer that with a qualified yes. It depends on the construction of the bomb."

In New York, Nobel prize-winning chemist Dr. Harold C. Urey said the fallout from the Soviet bomb "will mostly come to the United States."

However, Urey added in a television interview that the fallout will be "unpleasant but not critical—not at all." He did not elaborate.

Some U.S. officials have said a 50-megaton explosion would cause a large increase of fallout in the country but would not raise radioactivity to the danger point.

British Object to Inspection

LONDON (AP) — Britain today strongly rejected the right claimed by East Germans to inspect the papers of Western officials crossing into East Berlin.

The new East German move to curtail Allied rights in Berlin was announced Monday night after an incident at an East Berlin check point involving the United States minister, E. Allan Lightner Jr.

The announcement by the East Germans laid down a rule that in future Western personnel in civilian clothes would have to show identification papers to police when entering East Berlin.

Rain, Cold Covers Some of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Disital fall weather — foggy, rainy and cool — covered broad sections across the northern half of the nation today.

Fog, drizzle and light rain extended from the southern Great Lakes region south and southwestward into central Missouri and Indiana. The murky, weather was associated with a slow-moving cold front that extended across northwest Ohio southwestward into Texas.

Light rain fell in eastern sections where there also was considerable cloudiness. Rain hit areas along the east coast of Florida and from Cape Hatteras, N.C. northward through New England.

Cloudy skies also were reported in the northwest quarter of the country. Snow fell in parts of the central and northern Rockies while light rain sprinkled southern Idaho and along coastal Washington and Oregon.

It was chilly in most of the northern Rockies, the northern Plains and eastward into the upper Great Lakes and southward into northern Illinois. Temperatures were generally in the 30s. Lower marks, in the 20-30 degree range, were reported in northern New England.

Probers Charge Officers Muzzled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate inquiry into charges that military leaders seeking to make anti-Communist speeches have been muzzled or censored by the Pentagon will get under way here Nov. 27.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., who will direct the investigation, announced the date today in a statement issued through the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee.

Stennis said Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, Army officer who was removed as a division commander in Europe amid controversy over his troop educational and training programs, can testify in person, if the general wishes, or submit a written statement.

He said the hearings will be conducted publicly in so far as security permits.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who pressed for the Senate inquiry in a series of speeches and statements, is now overseas with an Army reserve group. He is a Reserve major general.

Premium for 1st Bale Cotton

FORMER JUDGE U. G. GARRETT IS SHOWN PRESENTING A $75 check as a bonus to Lays J. Hampton for producing the first bale of cotton in Hempstead this year. It was given at Hope Gin Co. on Sept. 18. The money was raised by Hope Businessmen and is the third year in a row that Mr. Hampton has had the honor. The Hampsons expected to get 200 bales from their 200 acres of cotton. In addition they have a fine beef herd. Mr. Hampton has produced cotton for the past 25 years. They were the Farm Family of the Year in 1958.

Deed Useless, Officials Say; Blocks Appeal

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats today assailed the latest gigantic nuclear bomb explosion by the Soviet Union as senseless, but hope for any urgent U.N. appeal to Moscow appeared to have vanished.

Sponsors of a proposed appeal by countries close to the Soviet testing grounds were reported to have given up the idea of seeking priority for their resolution aimed directly at a 50-megaton explosion.

A concentrated Soviet-blue drive — and lack of any general support — caused the eight-nation group to withdraw the request for priority. Denmark told the U.N. Political Committee the resolution still stands.

Canada's Sen. Alfred J. Brooks told the 101-nation committee this morning that whether or not the explosion was a 50-megaton bomb was not known but in any event "the Soviet Union has exploded the largest nuclear device ever detonated."

Canada is one of the sponsors of the proposed appeal to the Kremlin. Others are Sweden, Norway, Iceland, Japan, Denmark, Iran and Pakistan.

The Indian delegate, B. N. Chakravarty, called for priority for an Indian-sponsored proposal calling for a general moratorium on all nuclear testing.

Two Weeks That Shook the World---

Forceful action thrust through the crust of world calm, just five years ago in Hungary and almost simultaneously in Egypt. Soviet troops had withdrawn from Budapest after four days of strife which started Oct. 23. Refugees, taking advantage of the lull which followed, fled to the west—130,000 of them.

Nov. 1—Soviet tanks surrounded Budapest.
Installed as premier during the crisis, Imre Nagy (later executed by the Communists), appealed to U.N. and West for help.
Nov. 4—Perhaps emboldened by events in Egypt, which placed the West in a bad light,
Russia sent her tanks back into Budapest.

Soviet forces smashed their way into the heart of the city. Scattered resistance continued for days, but the doom of the Freedom Fighters was sealed. As the world looked on the Hungarian Revolt was crushed—a fearful example for other Iron Curtain countries.
NEXT: Summing up the result.

New Plot on Life, Claims Fidel Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro reported today that his police had thwarted a new plot to assassinate him.

In a speech to a meeting of the Young Rebels' Association, the Cuban prime minister said a counter-revolutionary group had mounted bazookas in an apartment block and a hail from the presidential palace but that the police discovered them before an attempt was made on his life.

It was the second plot against Castro's life reported this month.
Authorities had announced they had uncovered a plan to kill the prime minister in front of the Havana Sports Stadium.

Castro said he was mentioning
the latest plot as an example of counter-revolutionary terrorist methods. He did not disclose if any arrests had been made or when the plot was discovered.

"The murder of the revolutionary leaders is a favorite tactic of imperialism," Castro said. "They think that by killing people they will kill the revolution."

Castro said he did not understand why the bazooka crew had not fired.

"Any sharpshooter could not miss firing from that apartment," he said. "But they did not shoot.
I do not know why. I imagine they got nervous."

Between 1950 and 1960, Americans increased their life insurance ownership 150 per cent while population rose 19 per cent.

Cuba Blames U.S. in Death of Worker

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba officially accused the United States today of killing a Cuban worker at Guantanamo Naval Base and demanded that American officers be delivered to Cuban authorities for trial for the crime.

In a note delivered to the Czechoslovak Embassy in Washington for transmission to the State Department, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa declared the American base in Cuba "is a constant source of provocations," threatening international peace and the independence of Cuba.

The note repeated past assertions that Cuba is not planning to seize the base by force but "will reconquer full sovereignty over it through international right when the moment is ripe."

The Cuban press and some officials reported last week that Ruben Lopez Sabanigo was arrested and tortured to death at Guantanamo because of his leanings toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Protest meetings have been held in several Cuban cities. Castro announced last week he was giving Lopez' widow a pension.
Workers were asked to contribute one penny each to build her and her nine children a house.

U.S. officials have reported that Lopez' body was found inside the base a few days ago and that an investigation was being made.

Turks Settle on a Government

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkish political leaders bowed today to military pressure and agreed to form an emergency national front government with Gen. Cemal Gursel as president.

An agreement between the leaders of four parties which contested indisputable elections on Oct. 15 was reached after almost 18 straight hours of political bargaining under the threat of an army coup d'etat.

DOROTHY DIX

Here's a Pretty Kettle of Fish!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: What do you do when you fall out of love with your husband and in love with his best friend?

To further complicate matters, the best friend's wife is my best friend. We four went to the same high school. My husband was a fast talker; tall, fair-haired, good looking and captain of the football team. I was voted the most popular girl in our class. We were always being paired off. So, when the time came, it seemed the most natural thing in the world for us to marry.

After the honeymoon wore off I saw my husband for what he really was; a perennial football hero, ever playing to a mythical grandstand. I was a claqué, not a wife. Everything to build his ego, nothing to make me feel loved or wanted.

Actually, it was the best friend who kept our marriage from falling apart. He thought of all the little things which are really the big things; fresh flowers, candy, the latest magazines.

I revel in open fires. On chilly spring and autumn evenings he'd drop by and light the living room fire while my husband, indifferent to my comfort, settled down for a session of professional or amateur football, depending upon the season.

The best friend's wife, like my husband, is terribly self-centered, yet each, in their way, is a nice person. That makes it doubly hard now.

Ever since last summer I've been trying to muster up courage to tell my husband I've fallen in love with his best friend. While the friend hasn't voiced his love in so many words, I know by the thoughtful things he does and the way he looks at me that he cares. We could be divinely happy together. Should I confess the truth or go my dreary, hypocritical way—Frustrated!

Dear Frustrated: You're too close to the picture to get the proper perspective. Leave town, if only for a short trip. Appraise the situation impersonally. If you tell your husband it will wreck the friendship between him and this man, to say nothing of your friendship with the wife. Instead of one, you may damage three lives. The best friend, not you, should take the initiative. If he doesn't, you cannot, in all dignity, do anything but keep your aching heart to yourself. The world isn't always well lost for love's sake. Live up to your marriage vows!

Dear Helen: I've come to the end of my world. After 32 years of married life my wife and I still don't agree. I stuck it out for the sake of our children. Now, they are married and have children of their own.

One daughter separated from her husband. I did not approve. As a result she treated me like the dirty end of a stick and my wife sides with her. I'm of the mind to disappear, change my name and start a new life. What do you think of this—Weary Husband, Danville, Va.

Dear Weary Husband: To pull an Epoch Arden at this late date is cowardly. Remain to work your problem out. If you and your wife can't agree, either get a divorce or legally separate, if your religion permits.

This is something you should have faced long ago. Bickering wrecks body and soul. But, bear in mind that whatever happens, you are responsible for your wife's support, which, since she has borne you children, is only fair.

Memo to Dying-To-Know, Provo, Utah: Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Shy Bean." Get your girl friend to introduce you.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Successful Marriage."

Pleads Innocent to Mail Fraud

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Alan C. Springer entered a formal plea of innocent in federal District Court Monday to charges of fraud in the sale of securities while president of the Arkansas Business Development Corp.

Springer is free on bond pending an appeal of a five-year sentence imposed in a Bismarck, N.D., federal court in a mail fraud conviction.

Springer and Warren E. Wood, his court-appointed attorney, appeared before District Judge J. Smith Henley Monday to enter the plea.

Henley told Springer and Wood to confer about a trial date on the charge and report to him in three weeks.

Accident Fatal to Euroda Boy

EUDORA, Ark. (AP) — A car driven by a Eudora high school teacher struck and killed seven-year-old Roy Lawson on a county road one mile east of here Monday, officers said.

Police said Mrs. June Dawson, 40, a home economics teacher, told them she was returning from her home near here to the school when the youngster darted out into the road.

A coroner's jury held the death an unavoidable accident.

Mrs. Dawson told officers she had ridden home on the same school bus Monday with young Lawson before the accident.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Fay Lawson.

We offer our most grateful and heartfelt appreciate for each expression of sympathy in the recent death of our beloved daughter, Marcia.

Except for the sustaining grace of God and the love and loyalty of friends and loved ones, our grief would be more than we could bear.

May-God bless each of you.

U. S. Seizes Shipments to Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Commerce Department official told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee today that more than half a million dollars of illegal shipments intended for Cuba have been seized recently.

Dr. Jack N. Behrman, deputy assistant secretary of commerce for international affairs, said an intensive drive is being made to enforce the embargo on trade with the Fidel Castro regime.

Under the ban, only medicines and food may be shipped to the island.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., raised the question. He said he had a letter from a New York trading company stating that it was well-known there a Cuban government representative was buying embargoed items and was paying with checks on a Canadian bank.

Behrman asked Keating for names and promised to look into the case immediately. He said it was possible this man already had been arrested. A number of prosecutions are under way in similar instances, he testified.

Behrman said the United States now buys only tobacco, fruits and vegetables from Cuba. Purchases of those items totaled $30 million last year, he said.

He was asked why the United States now sends military planes to Yugoslavia but will not allow them to go to the Dominican Republic.

The United States has determined as a member of the Organization of American States that the Dominican Republic might use the aircraft for aggressive purposes in Latin America, he explained.

In the case of Yugoslavia, he said, it has been decided that country seeks to use them only for defensive purposes.

From Joseph A. Gwyer, a research expert now on leave from the Library of Congress, the subcommittee received the testimony Monday that U.S. firms are selling perhaps 150 to 200 items of significance to Communist bloc nations. Among those named were rubber, scrap metals and vehicles.

More than 20,000 students were graduated from Arkansas High Schools this year

Socialists Protest Big Blast

ROME (AP) — The seventh world congress of Socialists today unanimously adopted a resolution protesting as a "monstrous crime" the Soviet Union's explosion of a superbomb.

The congress condemned the resumption of nuclear tests after Soviet promises never to be the first to resume tests, and deplored its refusal to accept American and British offers to conclude immediately a treaty banning tests in the atmosphere.

The action was taken after British Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell told the congress "we feel deep disgust and cold anger over (Soviet Premier) Khrushchev's decision to explode the mighty 50-megaton bomb."

The Socialist International, in the name of 70 million voters, protests emphatically against the recent explosion in the Soviet Union of a multimegaton nuclear weapon. A 50-megaton explosion represents a monstrous crime against humanity. This explosion will greatly add to the level of radiation and may endanger the health of those living now and of those still unborn. This is in sharp contrast with the solemn declaration of peaceful co-existence.

He was asked why the United States now sends military planes to Yugoslavia but will not allow them to go to the Dominican Republic.

Thinks Good in Saying 'Sorry'

LONDON (AP)—The Church of Rome has become an ally instead of an enemy, and has begun to say "sorry" to other denominations, the former Archbishop of Canterbury said today.

Lord Fisher of Lambeth, former primate of the Church of England, told the British Council of Churches: "That is a most stupendous change, a complete new chapter in world history."

Lord Fisher said the trouble with politicians was that by their Monday that U.S. firms are selling perhaps 150 to 200 items of significance to Communist bloc nations. Among those named were rubber, scrap metals and vehicles.

"They have to prove they are right all the time. But salvation begins for groups of people only when they are able to say they are sorry, and that they were partly wrong," he said. "The Church of Rome has begun to say that, and so have we all."

Stock Trading Moderate on Market

By ED MORSE AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A few wide moves featured an otherwise dull and irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 259.40 with industrials off .40, rails off .10 and utilities up .30.

Changes of most key stocks were from fractions to around a point but there were wider moves to the plus or minus side by some issues.

Steels seemed depressed by a report that hopes for a sharp rise in output in the current quarter are fading. Autos also showed a tendency to go lower.

Some of the aircrafts advanced but tobacco sagged, influenced by a newspaper article over the weekend, linking cigarette smoking with heart disease.

Liggett & Myers dropped more than a point while Lorillard and American Tobacco lost fractions. Jones & Laughlin was off about a point.

International Business Machines reached another new high as it advanced more than 5. A jump of about 4 by General Foods was linked by brokers with the current tendency toward defensive issues.

Pullman Inc. fell more than 2 on a report of lower earnings. Texas Instruments sluffed off about 4 points. Amerasia, which advanced about 10 points last week, encountered some profit taking and was down more than a point.

Chrysler, now facing intensive bargaining with the auto union, was ahead about a point. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .73 at 704.89. Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher in moderately active trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed in slow trading. U.S. government bonds were unchanged in quiet dealings over the counter.

Gen. Taylor Starts Assessing Findings

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor today began assessing the findings of his aides in South Viet Nam in preparation for his report to President Kennedy on President Ngo Dinh Diem's chances of holding down the Communist rebels.

Taylor and his staff from Washington have made a two-day field inspection of rebel activity. Taylor's helicopter took him to the edge of Communist North Viet Nam during the tour and over areas of South Viet Nam dominated by the Communists.

Protests to Blast Spread Over World

LONDON (AP)—Protests and demonstrations spread throughout the non-Communist world today against Soviet detonation of a giant hydrogen bomb.

Government leaders, scientists and newspapers, especially in Western Europe and Japan, expressed shock and horror at the 30-to-50 megaton blast set off in the arctic Monday, India's Prime Minister Nehru said he was "deeply pained and shocked."

The Russian people themselves were unaware of the blast, not reported either by the Soviet government or press.

In Italy, tens of thousands of high school and university students marched out of classes and paraded through streets in a dozen cities in protest against the Soviet blast. In Manila, more than 7,500 Filipino college students were reported to have signed a petition urging the Soviet Union to halt further tests.

British pacifist and philosopher Earl Bertrand Russell, 89, led a ban-the-bomb delegation to the Soviet Embassy in London to deliver a protest letter and said afterward: "We had a nice interview, but in the end it was too much for the (Soviet) charge d'affaires."

Russell said the Russians told him there would be no fallout from the blast. But British Defense Minister Harold Watkinson said the British government is taking steps to make substitutes for fresh milk which might be contaminated from the Soviet blast.

He said preliminary evidence from the huge Soviet blast and its accompanying smaller one "suggests a yield of the order of 30 megatons."

In Australia, however, officials of the Commonwealth Scientific Industrial Research Organization said its measurements indicated the Russian explosion was in the 50 megaton region. They said shock waves from the explosion—8,800 miles away—were still being registered today.

West Europe's newspapers were almost unanimous in their condemnation of the explosion as an act of terrorism without any scientific justification.

Japanese were alarmed by a warning from experts there that highly radioactive rain and dust from the blast would reach their shores around Friday.

The Tokyo government called a conference of scientists to decide whether the expected levels of radiation would be harmful to humans. The experts sought ways of coping with water and vegetable contamination.

The Norwegian parliament was debating a proposed resolution protesting Soviet atmospheric tests when word of the mammoth blast was received. A Socialist deputy termed the Soviet explosion an "abominable" act and recommended the resolution be amended to make it stronger. But the original resolution was adopted when other legislators contended that any delay might be considered weakness.

Newspapers in Scandinavia grimly noted that the atmosphere had received the largest single dose of radioactivity to date.

Nehru declared that "such tests not only contaminate the atmosphere but pollute the hearts and minds of people everywhere."

"How can peace be established if the big powers continue their armaments race?" he asked.

Eat That Steak

NEWNAN, Ga. (AP)—The raw beefsteak traditionally used for do-it-yourself treatment of a black eye may now be discarded—or even eaten.

A Newnan doctor claims tablets of an enzyme have been found to help reduce the swelling in one or two days instead of the much longer period required by natural healing.

Dr. Ben H. Jenkins reported in the current issue of Clinical Medicine that the enzyme used was chymotrypsin, naturally present in the body to digest proteins, and now available in tablet form.

Chapter XX

Beecher saw a square wooden box, sealed and wrapped like those Lynch and Don Willie had transferred from the plane to the land-rover. It was pushed up against the back wall of the compartment, partially hidden by a mail bag. Beecher carried it into the body of the plane.

"They forgot something," he said to Ise.

"I moved a box to sit on while we were flying," Ise said. "They didn't see it when they took the others."

He took a hammer from the tool chest and clawed the metal straps from the wooden box. Raising the lid he picked up a sheaf of yellowing documents, some covered with the chicken tracks of Arabic calligraphy, others with writing in Spanish and German. There were blueprints, topographical maps, surveys; the paper was dry with dust and age, corners curling in pointless symmetry.

"What is it?" Ise asked.

"It's what all the shootings about, that's all. The gimmick, the loot, the ten-pound ruby in the forehead of the stone god—here it is!" Beecher began to laugh again; he couldn't help it. "Don Willie forgot it. Do you understand? He almost did everything right. But that 'almost' is going to hang him. Even if you and I die here. Somebody will find it. Somebody's got to."

"Why are you laughing about it?"

Beecher dropped the document back into the box. A puff of dust rose in the air. He looked at her and said, "You don't think it's funny?"

"It means more pain, nothing else."

"I guess that's the joke," Beecher said dryly. The whole episode was so tragic and solemn and silly. Don Willie had caused three men to die to save the honor of his house; in the name of the fatherland he had destroyed anything that might disclose his state and dreary corruptions in Morocco; and he had justified all this carnage on the highest of ethical planes, the profoundest of philosophical levels. And then, aimed and righteous, with a crash of booted feet sound in his soul, Don Willie had committed the sort of mistake that would have cost a grocery clerk his job.

Beecher stretched out on the blankets and punched a pillow into a comfortable support for his head.

Before he fell asleep he heard Ise lowering herself beside him on the blankets. She composed her slight body on the far side of their makeshift bed. There would be no contact between them, he thought sleepily and indifferently. . . . It didn't matter. Nothing mattered but sleep. . . .

He awakened. For an instant, blinking and half-conscious, he couldn't remember where he was; his mind seemed packed in wool. Ise was sitting cross-legged on the blankets. She was crying. This was what had waked him, the sound of her smothered sobs.

Michigan S. Holds First, Texas Is 3rd

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State widened its lead over Mississippi among major colleges today in the weekly poll of The Associated Press' 48-man committee of football writers and sportsmen. A 17-7 victory over previously unbeaten Notre Dame gave the Spartans a 40-point edge over Mississippi, which had trailed by only two points last week.

Coach Duffy Daugherty's sturdy Michigan State team, led by fullback George Sime, celebrated 29 first place votes on the strength of their second half performance against Notre Dame. In the point score it was Michigan State 44, Mississippi 40.

Despite a 41-0 romp over Tulane in a night game, powerful Mississippi lost some support and received only 11 first place ballots, compared to its 21-16 edge over the Spartans last week.

Texas held tight to third place with three firsts after manhandling Arkansas 33-7 and Alabama moved ahead of Iowa, taking over fourth position on its 34-3 triumph over Tennessee. Iowa dropped a peg to fifth, despite its 47-15 smothering of Wisconsin.

The top ten with points on a had Monday off to recuperate 10-9-8-7 etc. basis, with first place from a 33-7 loss to Texas, but votes in parentheses:

1. Michigan State (29)
2. Mississippi (11)
3. Texas (3)
4. Alabama (4)
5. Iowa (1)
6. Ohio State
7. Louisiana State
8. Notre Dame
9. Georgia Tech
10. Colorado

Bowl Bids Already Sent to Few Teams

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

About six weeks ago, Syracuse's football team was an energetic group of young men, deep in talent, highly touted to emerge as one of the nation's top-ranked football teams and probably wind up in a postseason bowl.

Today they are energetic, and have their bowl offer. But their energy output has been doubled because of an epidemic of injuries that has reduced the Orange's football machine to a limited horsepower operation, revolving around halfback Ernie Davis, and with plenty of trouble ahead on the schedule.

The bowl bid came from New York's Gotham Bowl committee Monday, almost in a desperation move after being shut out of top notch candidates a year ago.

When the Orange lost its key Eastern game against Penn State 14-0 last Saturday, it was operating without its first two quarterbacks, with an end switched to fullback and with little depth.

With tough Holy Cross ahead this week, things have eased a little. Gary Fallon moved into the No. 1 fullback slot after playing behind Davis for most of the season. Starting quarterback Dave Sarette, who along with No. 2 signal-caller Bob Lelli missed last week's game, is also due back. Lelli is out with a broken hand.

Iowa Coach Jerry Burns began using former quarterback Wilburn Hollis as a halfback Monday. Hollis broke a bone in his wrist in the second game of the season and hasn't been in action since. Halfback Larry Ferguson also resumed work after being hurt.

Stinson Jones may miss the first game of his college career with an injured neck when VMI goes against William & Mary this week.

Halfback Jack Medford of Missouri will miss the Tigers' game against Nebraska with a knee injury while Illinois Coach Pete El-liot, winless in four games, has junked his two platoon idea in favor of "putting my best 11 players together and using them as long as possible."

Southern California, which meets the Illini this week, put fullback Ben Charles at the end post, spelling Hal Bedsole, as the

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission: Lake Maumelle: Water clear and low. All fishing poor on all bait.

Lake Conway: Water clear and 5.4 feet low on drawdown. All fishing fair.

Lake Catherine: Clear and normal. Bass fair on artificial bait and large minnows.

Lake Ouachita: Water conditions good. All fishing poor.

Lake Hamilton: Water conditions good. Bass poor to fair. Crappie poor. Bream fair to good on crickets and worms.

Lake Bull Shoals: Bream good on crickets. Bass fair in daytime on jigs and cels, fair late afternoon on top water bait.

Lake Norfolk: Water clear. Black bass fair to good on jigs, cels, plastic worms and crayfish.

White bass fair to good at night on minnows. Crappie fair trolling with artificial bait and minnows.

Lake Greason: No report.

Hogs Get Some Rest But Back to Work Today

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

The Arkansas Razorback regulars they go back to work today to get ready for Saturday's game

444 get ready for Saturday's game

404 with Northwestern Louisiana.

372 Northwestern has won six

331 straight games and is the Gulf

327 Coast Conference title favorite.

235 The Demons beat prominent Lou-

123 isiana Tech 19-7 last week and 119 have scored 201 points to 53 for 108 the opposition.

97 The Hogs heard a scouting report on the Demons Monday night from assistant coach and former Razorback player Barry Switzer.

The Demons are an impressive small college team but should pose

no real threat to the Razorbacks.

Northwestern is led by two flashy halfbacks, Kenny Thompson, who has averaged 7.5 yards per carry, and Glen Talbert, who has averaged 7.2.

The Demons' most impressive victory was 57-6 over Corpus

Christi. They beat Stephen F.

Austin 35-9 and New Mexico Polytechnic 58-3. They whipped Northeast

Louisiana 28-7 and barley beat Louisiana College 7-6 in their only close one.

Arkansas is 3-2. The Razorbacks scheduled Northwestern as an off-year opponent to get a breather

after playing TCU, Baylor and Texas in a row.

The game is set for 3 p.m. Saturday in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium.

Broyles said he gave the Razorbacks Monday off because they were physically tired. It was not an unprecedented move and it probably would have happened no matter who Arkansas might be playing this week.

The Razorback coaching staff

Monday announced a new policy of not talking about team injuries for publication unless a man is definitely out of the next game.

Texas Fears Upset by Lowly Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the Nation's No. 3 team can be cut down to size by injuries, reasons Coach Darrell Royal of Texas.

That's why he's concerned about his upcoming game with Rice when the Southwest Conference lead will be established.

Royal was worrying himself sick over the six-man injury list that has accumulated among his unbeaten Longhorns.

Starting guards Johnny Treadwell and Marvin Kulin and starting center David Kristynik are among those on the ailing list.

Coach Jess Neely of Rice was worried in another way—he had to read a horror story: Scout Joe Davis' report on Texas.

He said he couldn't summarize Davis' report but that "you don't have to have anyone summarize it. All you have to do is look at Texas' record. It speaks for itself."

But Neely held off scaring his players for at least another day. He didn't have the heart to talk to the boys about it Monday.

The Arkansas Razorbacks took Monday off. Coach Frank Broyles said the Hogs were tired and needed to recuperate from the 33-7 lashing Texas gave them last week.

Little Northwestern Louisiana State journeys to the Ozarks to take on the tired Hogs Saturday in an inter-sectional game that could determine if the Razorbacks will get on their feet again this season.

The Texas Aggies started the week running plays they hope will snare the Baylor Bears. The Bears have yet to win a conference game. A&M stands 1-1 in conference play.

Aggie Coach Jim Myers said his team is in good shape physically, except for guard Jim Harper, who will miss his fourth consecutive game because of a knee injury.

John Bridgers, Baylor Coach, has had his team knocking heads in tough scrimmage work trying to get the Bears up for the Aggie game. He said both halfback Tom Minter and guard Robert Burke are expected to miss the game.

In Dallas it will be Southern Methodist stalking Texas Tech for its first conference victory. Tech Coach J. T. King warned that SMU has the potential to hit the Raiders where they have been weakest defensively this season—through the air.

Mike Kelsey, the No. 1 linebacker for SMU, returned to the squad Monday, which means Southern Methodist is ready.

Texas Christian is relaxing after upsetting A&M 15-14 last week. Abe Martin had his boys watching movies of their victory while dull and drew boos from the praising running of halfback Coliseum crowd of 3,869 which contributed to a net gate of $10, back Roy Dent and the line play of tackle Don Jackson.

TCU has an open date this week.

Camden Big Favorite Over the Bobcats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Benton, whose unbeaten string was snapped at six last week in a 9-7 loss to Little Rock Hall, meets Jacksonville Friday night in Benton in a game that probably will decide the Region 3 AA championship.

Jacksonville is unbeaten in six games and has four straight conference victories under its belt. Benton is 3-0 in league play and will be heavily favored over the up-and-coming Red Devils.

Jacksonville will hope for a "down" week for the state's number three team, after the Hall defeat.

Three other 3AA teams go against strong inter-district opponents. Morrilton meets IAA leader Van Buren, Conway takes on unbeaten Jonesboro of 3AA and Russellville faces Malvern.

The Camden Panthers, still unbeaten after seven games and celebrating their 20-7 victory over Big Nine Pine Bluff last week, try to add another Region 4AA triumph Friday night in a game with foundering Hope.

Camden sweeps toward a Nov. 10 showdown match with Smackover, the only other team which hasn't lost a league game. Smackover, at 5-1-1 for the season, takes on Crossett Friday night in another 4AA contest.

Camden Fairview, which has won two in a row after losing its first five, goes against Magnolia which beat Hope 14-7 last week for its first victory.

Van Buren's Pointers, the only unbeaten team left in Region IAA, meet Morrilton in a non-conference game Friday night before taking Fayetteville next week in the league showdown.

Fayetteville and Springdale each have lost one game, and if Fayetteville can beat Van Buren in Fayetteville, the race probably will end in a three-way tie.

If Van Buren wins next week, it will be a cinch for the title. Springdale takes on Rogers this week, and one of them will be eliminated from the race. Rogers has lost only one league game but isn't as strong as last year, when it won the title.

Fayetteville plays Springfield, Mo., Hillcrest Friday and Harrison takes on Class A Siloam Springs.

Nov. 10 is the big day in Region 2AA football. That's when Jonesboro and Helena meet in a game that is almost certain to decide the championship.

Neither has lost a league game although Helena is 5-2 in season play to Jonesboro's 7-0. Jonesboro takes on Conway in a non-league game Friday night while Helena plays puzzling Wynne in a conference game.

Wynne has lost four in a row after winning its first three convincingly.

Stuttgart plays Forrest City Friday night in an old rivalry that has little bearing on the standings this year. Stuttgart is 2-2 in 2AA play. Forrest City has lost only one conference game but is 3-4 on the season.

Stuttgart meets Searcy, which beat Wynne 21-6 last week. Paragould takes on Class A Pocahontas and West Memphis entertains Munford, Tenn.

The Declaration of Independence was safeguarded at Fort Knox, Ky., for three years during which beat Hope 14-7 last week for its first victory.
